FOOD REQUIREMENTS OF COW

Results Given of Studies of Department of Agriculture and Purdue University.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Bessie is one of the champion consumers of the universe, according to results of studies of the United States department of agriculture and Purdue university in the neighborhood of Fort Wayne, Indiana, where Uncle Sam kept tab for two years on the food requirements of about 368 cows that were producing market milk for Chicago. As cow living expenses have increased proportionally to those of the human family, these results are notable as an index to which the average dairyman or the owner of a family cow can refer in "doping out" the rations and amounts of feed which his animal or animals require.

The grand average maintenance and production ration for the good grade cow yielding about 7,000 pounds of milk a year included 2,046 pounds of grain, as well as 3,301 pounds of hay and corn stover, 7,276 pounds of silage, and 720 pounds of straw for bedding. The average cow required a little less than 1 1/2 acres of good pasture to furnish grazing for six months of the year. To keep her in proper condition and to milk and feed her regularly required 1,645 hours of human labor, as well as 16.2 hours of horse labor to haul the milk.

The studies in Indiana showed that the annual overhead charges for Bessie aggregate $27.11, inclusive of the interest, depreciation, and taxes on buildings, cattle, and equipment, as well as miscellaneous expenses, such as provision and maintenance of cans, pails, dippers, shovels, forks, scoops, lanterns, and the like, medicine and veterinary costs, fly sprays, gas engines, windmill and milk wagon repairs, and similar items. The cost of bull service, tuberculin-testing expenses, and cow-testing fees are also included.

The tests show that a calf cost of approximately $7 per cent is usually raised, so that each cow is credited with the production of 0.87 of one calf, as well as the providing of 6.8 tons of manure, which is hauled to the fields as fertilizer.

Massed together under one roof, the grain and coarse feed which Bessie will eat in one year would fill a small barn. Generally speaking, high production of milk is closely associated with a large and healthy cow appetite, and the dairyman who chooses his accounting records at the year's end with the maximum net return is the man who provides the greatest variety and a proper mixture of the goodies of the cow world for the bosses of his herd according to their individual production and capacity.

FIND COST OF FEED IN OHIO

Hundred Pounds of Milk Produced at Rate of 68 Cents When Silage is Furnished.

At the Ohio college it was found that 100 pounds of whole milk can be produced at the rate of 68 cents when silage is fed, and butter at a cost of 13.1 cents a pound. However, when an average feed is fed without silage, it costs $1.95 to produce 100 pounds of whole milk, and 22 cents to produce a pound of butter. The same can be said for beef production. Silage and a little cottonseed meal, or clover hay, soy beans or cowpeas will make a balanced ration. Moldy silage should not be fed to stock at any time.

DAIRY NOTES

When ten days to two weeks of age, the calf should have a little grain.

The silo is one of the foundation stones of successful dairy farming.

Some people like butter that is quite salty and some prefer butter without salt. It is all a matter of taste.

Every farmer who observes closely must be impressed with the need of more dairy cows to economize in food production.

Dairymen should weigh each cow's milk daily. Feed and labor are too expensive to spend on any but high producing animals.

Shipping whole milk long distances without souring is a matter requiring considerable skill and an understanding of the principles involved.

Milk, with clean, dry hands into a clean, sterilized, small-top pail.

The average farmer often keeps a few cows as a "side line," just as he keeps hogs, chickens, etc.

The market for dairy products fluctuates very little year by year as compared with other farm products.

Through the dairy cow many unsalable roughages may be transformed into products from which cash may be

THE KITCHEN CABINET

3000 THINGS FOR THE FAMILY TABLE.

Faith is the rite bower of Hope. If it want for Faith, there would be no living in this world. We couldn't even eat hash with enny safety, if it want for Faith.

Faith is one of them warriors who don't know when she is whipped.

—Josh Billings.

The following may not be new, but are all at least worth trying once: Raisin Pie—Sift together three cups of flour, six level teaspoons of baking powder and one teaspoon of salt. Rub into the flour one-half cup of sweet fat and add one and one-half cups of milk. Lowly. The dough must be soft, so it will drop from the spoon; add one cup of raisins, and drop on a buttered sheet. Bake twelve to fifteen minutes.

Grandmother's Cookies—Cream one-half cup of any good fat, add one cup of sugar, one-half cup of sour milk, one teaspoonful of soda and four cups of flour. Sift the flour with a half-teaspoonful of salt, add the soda dissolved in the milk, and mix all the ingredients together. Roll out on a floured bread board, sprinkle with granulated sugar and bake twelve minutes in a hot oven.

Cocoa Nut Bars—Cream half a cup of butter substitute and two cups of sugar together, add one-half cup of milk slowly, then two well-beaten eggs. Add one-half teaspoonful of soda dissolved in one tablespoonful of water, then sift in one cup of cocoa. Sift together with three cups of flour, a half teaspoonful each of cream of tartar and salt. Mix, and roll one-fourth inch in thickness, and cut in strips four inches long and one inch wide. Brush the top with well-beaten egg, sprinkle with chopped nuts, and bake in a hot oven twelve minutes.

Beef Steer for Luncheon.—Peel and cook six onions, covering them with boiling water, and let them cook until nearly tender, then add a can of tomato soup, a can of peas, a teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonsful of chili sauce and one pound of sliced stewed beef. Parboil a pint of potatoes, drain, add to the onions and soup, and let cook ten minutes; add the sliced beef, peas, and let simmer until the potatoes are done. Then add the seasonings, and serve very hot.

FOOD SUGGESTIONS.

I'm just a little ditty and not the least bit witty; But listen, I've a secret up my sleeve. If you're forever sighing And all the world decrying, Your friends will all excuse themselves and leave.

Raisin Pie.—Mix two cups of raisins, seeded and chopped raisins, the juice and rind and chopped pulp of one lemon, one cup of cold water, one-third of a cup of sugar and one beaten egg. Fill with flour, dot with bits of butter, cover with lattice and bake.

Chicken a la King.—Melt two tablespoonsful of butter. In it cook one-fourth pound of fresh mushroom caps, peeled and broken in pieces, and half a green pepper, cut in shreds; stir and cook until some of the moisture is evaporated. In another saucepan melt two tablespoonsful of butter; in it cook three tablespoonsful of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth teaspoonful of paprika; add one cup of chicken broth and stir until boiling; heat in one egg yolk, beaten and mixed with a teaspoonful of lemon juice, and continue beating until the egg is cooked. Do not allow the mixture to boil; add the mushrooms and pepper and three cups of chicken, breast preferably, cut in inch square pieces. This dish may be prepared from cold chicken but it is best hot, freshly cooked.

Breaded Tomatoes.—Take one can of tomatoes, one cup of boiling water, one tablespoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of sugar and a dash of pepper with a pinch of soda. Bring to the boiling point and put through a sieve. Reheat and add crumbed bread until thick. A more attractive way of serving this same dish is to heat slices of bread until hot, butter generously and cover with seasoned tomatoes.

Corn Flake Griddle Cakes.—Sift together one cup of pastry flour, one-half teaspoonful of soda, two teaspoonsful of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt; add one cup of corn flakes. Beat one egg very light, add a cupful of thick sour milk, half a cupful of sweet milk and two tablespoonsful of shortening. Mix and bake on a hot well greased griddle.

Chowder of Parsnips.—Take one quart of well scraped parsnips sliced, one quart of quartered potatoes and four onions quartered. Cover with water, add salt and pepper and a four-inch cube of salt pork cut in bits; boil ten minutes, then simmer without stirring until well done.

PROHIBITION LAW IS NOW IN EFFECT

WHOLE OF UNITED STATES NOW UNDER CONSTITUTIONAL PROHIBITION.

READY TO ENFORCE LAW

Bureau of Internal Revenue Has Large Powers and Will Have Aid and Backing of Department of Justice.

Washington.—Nation-wide prohibition by constitutional amendment—the dream of years for those opposed to the sale of liquor—became effective at midnight Jan. 16, with the Department of Justice and bureau of internal revenue, the two governmental agencies entrusted with enforcement of the new basic law, ready to take drastic action against all violators.

The final step in the work of enforcing the new prohibition was taken when Secretary Glass approved finally the regulations to be observed by agents of the federal government.

John F. Kramer, general prohibition commissioner, announced that he practically had completed selection of his corps of state commissioners and local agents, and had been notified by them that they were prepared to start on the task of enforcing the amendment as provided in the Volstead enforcement act.

There was little notice taken by government officials of the end of all licensed sales of liquor except at the Treasury Department, where much activity was shown at the offices of officials connected with prohibition enforcement. Their task, however, was confined to the linking up of detailed plans for aiding local authorities in driving out the illegitimate dealer in intoxicants. Officials said they expected a multiplicity of legal and lesser tangles to ensue, but they were making an effort to avoid as many of these as possible.

W. C. T. U. TO CONTINUE WORK

Having Completed Its Work of Securing Prohibition Here, Will In-vade Other Countries.

Chicago.—With constitutional prohibition in effect, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which has its national headquarters at Evanston, will branch into other reform movements and also will carry on the war on liquor in every part of the globe, where its use is still legal, according to announcement made here.

Other reforms in the W. C. T. U. aimed included world prohibition; Americanization, improvement of industrial conditions for women, child welfare and moral education.

An Opera Goer.

Mary Garden said at a tea in Chicago: "A great many people take grand opera like my friend, Mrs. De Smythe. 'Peter,' said Mrs. De Smythe at breakfast, 'lend me the paper a minute, will you?'"

"What do you want the paper for?" growled Peter, as he handed it across the table.

"I want to see," said Mrs. De Smythe, "whether the grand opera we heard last night was good or bad."

Indigestion Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach. There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, bloating after eating, food repulsing, sour, heavy stomach. There are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are nevertheless traceable to an acid-stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, dizziness of the liver, rheumatism, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental disorders that keep the victims in miserable health year after year. The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid-stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC makes it easy to do this.

One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with intestinal indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pain in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."

We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise. Your druggist has EATONIC. Get a big box from him today. He will refund your money if you are not satisfied.

The Senior Class is very proud of their new teacher, "Miss Erwin," who rendered her services at the Taylor School during the absence of Miss Celine Fayard.

Wallace Chapman was called from school Thursday, February 5th, on account of Mrs. Chapman's illness. During his absence he was taken ill. We are glad to note that both are doing well.

The 63-inch team of the High School are scheduled to play a game with a team of the same height of S. S. C. Saturday, February 14, at 7:30 P. M., as a preliminary game to the Varsity S. S. C. and Tulane game. Randolph has cut his hair. We wonder who suggested it?

BAY ST. LOUIS—A SKETCH.
By Mrs. L. A. Fortier, Former Professor of French, N. O. Girls' High School.

O, what a charming city is our Bay St. Louis!

Very few strangers comparatively know of its great charms and allurements.

Being asked to dwell on these I have decided to divide a brief description into its five principal parts, let, its natural beauty; 2nd, its fine climate; 3rd, its intelligent and hospitable inhabitants; 4th, its splendid and useful buildings; 5th, the heavens over the bay and sea.

Natural Beauty.

Nothing on the sea coast can be compared more beautifully than the view of the city of Bay St. Louis! The first time that I saw Bay St. Louis, as I came from New York to New Orleans, crossing over the L. & N. bridge from Pass Christian, (another charming city of the sea coast), I could not help admiring all that I could see. A number of grassy bluffs, stores that presented the most charming homes in beautiful streets, namely, Carroll avenue, Main street, with the courthouse and the postoffice, Nicholson avenue, Washington street, St. Charles street, nearly all radiant for the greater part of the year with blooming gardens; supplemented with trees of pecan, peach and the graceful and caressing grape vines.

Climate.

Second—climate. Spring, summer, autumn and winter. In the spring and summer there are delightful, health-giving baths in the cool and salty waters of the bay. The nights are generally cool, with pleasant breezes, as for autumn the weather is delightfully soft and cool; in winter neither ice or snow, only fogs and often a benignant sun softens the chilly air.

Intelligent and Busy Inhabitants.

Beyond the bay, out to the sea, there are hundreds of fishing boats. Fishermen working in getting lots of fish, shrimp, crabs, oysters. The bivalves, and crustaceans are delicious and nearly always in season. There are so many that great quantities are shipped away. These are part of the great industry locally and add to the wealth of the city. In addition, the mercantile lines, are the groceries of W. L. Bourgeois, B. Monteleone, A. O. Bordon and other places where excellent meats and vegetables are to be had at all times.

Business and Other Institutions.

Four are the buildings and institutions so necessary to Bay St. Louis and its progress. The handsome homes of the residents. The great stores of J. O. Mauffray, the Specialty Store, the Bay Mercantile Company's store, of which Mr. Osoinach is the owner; Engman's store, the Bay Jewelry Store, Mr. Temple, proprietor, selling of everything necessary to the population. Also the electric light plant, Mr. Stokoe, manager, and the Peerless plant, with Mr. Firsching manager, and the adjoining turtle cannery of Mr. H. J. Thurston's, are all valuable essentials to the present day trend of march of Bay St. Louis.

Other prominent and well-known buildings and institutions are the churches and schools. The largest of the former is the church of "Our Lady of the Gulf." There is St. Joseph's Academy and St. Stanislaus College, all fronting the bay.

The Heavens at Bay St. Louis.

What is the fifth is probably the most interesting of all, the most beautiful. Nothing is grander than the view of the heavens at Bay St. Louis, over the bay front. Recently we had to admire the sun's planets. In our view they seemed to nearly touch each other in their beautiful and grand style. The French professor in astronomy said that though millions of miles from each other, they had come together towards the sun. These planets were: Venus, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune, which we could see very near each other. Farther from the extraordinary action of the planets could be seen in the north the customary bright stars: the Ursa Major, the Great Bear, the Ursa Minor, the Small Bear with its Polar star in the extreme north. Then in the east and west the brightest, luminous stars: Taurus, the Bull; Orion, Canis Major, the Great Dog, Sirius, hundreds of others, the brightest stars in the heavens.

Popular Periodicals at Bay St. Louis.

To the end of my description, I must not fail to mention the popular and delightful perusal of the journals, principally from New Orleans: The Times-Picayune, The Item, The States, and from the Bay itself the very interesting Journal, The Echo, whose editor is Mr. Charles G. Moreau. Another most interesting journal is from Philadelphia, The Saturday Evening Post, which is sold to many from the excellent agency of Miss Josie E. Welch.

One Word More—In Closing.

We must also notice the most eminent men of the Bay, the physicians: Dr. Horton, Dr. Smith, Dr. Lewis. The dentists: Dr. Evans and Dr. Spencer.

The postoffice is always a center of attraction. Mr. Jos. E. Saucier is the postmaster.

The drug stores are de Montluzin's, Powers and Fahey's.

The most excellent mayor of the Bay, Mr. R. W. Webb, is very popular and loved.

MISS SALLIE CIRLOT TELLS OF CARE OF THE SPRING SETTING HEN

County Demonstration Agent Sallie Cirlot Issues a Timely and Valuable Circular of Interest to Every One

INTERESTED IN POULTRY INCUBATION AT HOME.

Her Instructions Are Simple and the Result of Professional Study—Egg Testing and Cleanliness Are Essential.

Every housewife, every boy and girl—in fact, anybody interested in poultry raising, will read with interest and profit the following circular letter which Miss Sallie Cirlot, county demonstration agent, has just issued and is mailing out.

Miss Cirlot recommends testing the eggs on the seventh and again on the fourteenth day, and urges cleanliness for the hen. Too much stress it appears cannot be placed on these two all-important factors.

As these circulars are addressed to the club girls, The Echo reproduces the letter for the benefit of its readers who might not be on Miss Cirlot's mailing list. The letter follows:

Cleanliness in the setting coop or nest is of paramount importance, since it means the prevention of vermin, improved health of the hen and more ideal condition for the chicks: (1) The droppings must be removed as well as the cracked shells or extremely dirty litter. This can be done when the birds are off the nest to eat. (2) An abundance of dust should be provided in a box in easy reach of the nest, so that the setting hen can dust herself. The dust is to the hen what a bath is to the human being. (3) The necessity of dusting the hen with a good insect powder once or twice during the incubation period. Best time is on the seventh and fourteenth days when the eggs are tested.

—Care of the setting hen.

In the care of the setting hen system is worth more than all other points combined. They should be provided with food and water at regular time each day, so that she will know when to expect it. The surest practice is to provide a mixture of corn and wheat in an open pan on the ground near the nest. Fresh water should be provided in a clean container.

—Testing Eggs.

In order to determine the fertility of the eggs and the development of the embryo, which is the gauge of the efficiency of the hatch, it is advisable to test the eggs twice during the hatch. Take out all that will not hatch, thus enabling the hen to better care the remaining eggs. The seventh and fourteenth days are the most convenient. In a dark room or on a dark night is the best time to test eggs. Have a shoe box with a hole in the bottom big enough to hold an egg. Place a candle or a lamp behind the egg and if there is a dark spot in the egg on the seventh day they have been under the hen, the spot denotes the egg is fertile. If the egg is clear it is not fertile; keep it or not put it back under the hen. On the fourteenth day place the test as directed above and the body of the chicken will be seen in the egg. That is the time you "count your chickens before they are hatched." Then moving the eggs before the light, if the dark spot does not move in the egg the egg is dead.

—Care of Chicks.

Have a clean coop for the hen and chicks to put in and do not feed for 24 hours. First feed may be of crumbs, five times a day at regular intervals. Rolled oats are the best feed for the little fellows. After ten days wheat bran and corn meal may be mixed in equal parts or three parts bran and one part meal with a little fine grit and charcoal mixed. In addition to this they may have three feeds a day of little chick feed or finely cracked corn and beans. After the chicks are a week old the hen may be given free range during the day, but kept in the coop at night. When chicks are five weeks old the mash may be changed to corn, meal, oatmeal, crushed peas, fine charcoal, and oyster shells ground fine. This should be kept before them all day. Supplement this ration with hard-boiled eggs and sprouted oats in small quantities twice a day.

This article is for natural incubation of chicks and their care. Any one wishing for information on artificial incubation will be furnished such information gladly.
